“ I'm a slow processor so it has taken me a little bit to find the words I want to share. Growing up Angie was a like a second mom to me. When my dad first got the job at BCC the Uber's where one of the first families to welcome us and become our friends. Growing up, I remember spending a lot of time at their home; sleepovers, pool parties, etc. Angie cared for us like we were her own and she showed us so much love. After the Uber family moved we didn't have much contact but they always held a special place in my heart.

4 years ago I went into full time mission work in a low - socio economic suburb of Melbourne, Australia. After my first year I came back to the states to raise full time support. The week before I left to come back to Australia, I attended a missions camp. At that point in time I was 90% funded and needed to reach 100% before getting on my plane. I remember feeling deflated, discouraged, and unmotivated. I shared with those around me my struggle and they prayed that God would send someone to help me reach 100% that very day. I thought that it was a bold prayer and I didn't believe it would happen. I remember sharing on Facebook my need and then took an afternoon snooze. When I woke up there was a message from Angie sharing that she would like to partner with me. What she didn't know and I don't think I ever shared was she became that person we prayed for. Because of Angie I became fully funded and was able to get on a plane the following week.

I'm still here living and serving in a neighborhood called Dandenong where I have the honor of sharing God's love and His Kingdom with disadvantaged youth in the area. And it is because of Angie and people like her who follow God with their whole heart no questions asked.

Angie was such an encouragement and surrounded me with love when I was younger and I still feel so overwhelmed that she continued to do that through to her last day even though we were oceans apart.

Angie's love for God and people will always have an impact on my life. She is someone I look up to and I cannot wait to see her again one day!

“ Angie was such an inspiration to all who knew her. Always had a smile on her face, her love for her family, friends and God always shined through to those around her. God gained a beautiful angel when Angie went home to be with him. We will always love you.

“ Kaitlin, do you remember when your mom came to our class and helped us quilt our memory squares of our second/third grade loop? And Cameron, you and your mom roomed with Chris and I when we went on the Niagra Falls field trip many years ago. Many wonderful memories and good laughs were shared. Your mom lived for seeing the smiles around her. When I remember her it is always with laughter, smiles, and love. God has blessed us all by letting us know her.
