“ When I first met Barb and Kenny it 2006. As odd as is was I couldn't remember their names the first few times and Brenda told me just to remember Ken and Barbie. So from that point on I always called her Barbie. A few things I'll always remember are the times we'd go out to eat and I'm not sure of them menu or restaurant. One thing I could guarantee is that Barbie was getting lemons, lots of lemons and a pile of napkins! One thing I always wanted to tell Barb and Kenny is that I was very appreciative to the way they welcomed my kids into the family. Being a blended family is difficult and you would have never known our 5 children were any different. I love you Barbie and you will be missed.
