

Carla Kay Champlin

November 11, 1955 - July 10, 2013

Carla Kay Champlin, age 57 of Albia, died Wednesday, July 10, 2013, at her home in Albia.

Carla was born September 11, 1955, to Lewis and Linda (Webster) Braaksma. She grew up and attended school in Newton, and later married Larry Champlin. He preceded her in death March 28, 2005.

Carla was a certified nurse's assistant. She enjoyed watching TV, spending time with her cat, and was very good at making beaded jewelry. She also liked to read and spend time with her grandchildren.

Carla is survived by a son, Larry (Pepper) Champlin of Albia; six grandchildren, Shawma, Austin, Tyler, Hunter, Andy, and Crissie; and her mother, Linda Webster of Newton.

She was preceded in death by her father and husband.

Carla's body has been cremated, and visitation will be 12-4 p.m., Saturday, July 13, 2013, at Tharp Funeral Home in Albia, with Carla's family present. Burial will follow in Pleasant Corners Cemetery near Eddyville.

No memorial service is planned.

Memorials may be made to Carla's family.

“ always remember from beginning to in the end family will always be there. our jobs are to forgive to love and to endure lifes test together and always remember those who pass before us are sure to greet us when our time comes with open arms loving words and the gift of forever ending love.

my greatest memory of carla is that she would help any one in times of need even if she couldnt stand you. she spent her life loving her friends and grandchildren . i can name several times she had helped me and her sister and not once complained or questioned why we needed help.

carla i will miss you and your crazy way of making me smile wish i had the chance to say thank you for being in our lives and the joy of many times spent together.i will shoot matt once a year with a bottle rocket just for you. miss you and love you .

always a phone call away larry stay in touch and i hope that you and yours are always part of our lives love you all very much.

good bye carla. your brother from another .
