“ Thinking of you all -- that is, Donald's family since receiving the news, and being with you in thoughts and prayers. Appreciate seeing Donald's picture here, reading about Donald's family, some of his many accomplishments, and the things he liked to do. Although we were first cousins, we didn't really know Donald, as our paths only crossed a few times in this short life. Death and sickness brings much pain, it is true. Everlasting life in a paradise earth will overcome that pain, bringing much joy. We are grateful to God for his promises that he always keeps. With sincere sympathy.
