“ Dear Dixie,

*I was trying to google your name for a different purpose when your mother's obituary popped up onto the screen. What a flood of memories came racing back. Walking out to your place for apicnic in the field for one of our class outings, staying over night and going sled riding, eating my first French fries!! We trust that she knew the Lord as her Savior and that we will see her again one day. If you would care to contact me at the above e-mail address I would love to correspond with you. We have been in Africa for 11 years now so one never knows where the Lord may lead! Hopig to hear from you.
