“Jerrie always greeted us with her warm smile and cherry hello during our visits to Branson. She always made us feel welcome even though sometimes our visits were unexpected. We will miss seeing Jerrie in her chair in the corner of the living room with several newspapers on the table in front of her, as she kept updated on Branson news. If we wanted to know anything about happenings in Branson, Jerrie always knew the latest!

Jerrie loved her family and we enjoyed hearing updates on each family member during our visits.

On Sundays, as we visited the Methodist Church, as soon as Jerrie saw us, she would quickly make room for us to sit with her and Bob in the last pew. I smiled as she moved her cup of coffee and cookie she was finishing just before church. After church Jerrie and Bob would suggest we all go to Wendy's for lunch where we would continue our visiting.

She would always give Bob a hard time that he didn't want her to put up Christmas lights outside too early, even if she promised not to light them until after Thanksgiving! The love between Jerrie and Bob was very evident with their care and concern for each other, and the fun teasing. One of our favorite memories is the picture below of Jerrie and Bob as they walked hand in hand to attend a show in Branson. We are sure they are continuing their date nights in their Heavenly home!

We will miss Jerrie and Bob greatly. Our deepest sympathy to the family.
